

The WellSpace App: Who is it for?

Wellbeing is a subject that matters to employers of all sizes and in all industries. Promoting physical and mental health in the workplace is a priority for many employers right now and the WellSpace application helps drive engagement and insights as part of a value driven wellbeing strategy.

The app is applicable to all industries, especially larger organisations where a digital solution allows for scalability and better reporting across a number of sites. Whilst the app is used by SMEs and single site operations, the power of data insights is maximised where clients have in excess of 50 users.

Whilst all AIG EL policyholders can be considered as potential users of the WellSpace service, there are certain indicators that may point to the service being a particularly good fit for some organisations, from a cultural, risk, commercial or other perspectives including:

Client has a record of incidents influenced by wellbeing issues (e.g. high staff turnover, mental health absences, increasing absence rates, deteriorating employee relations, etc.)

Instances where previous insurers and/or the broker have already identified specific support opportunities around wellbeing issues

Client has an embedded behavioural safety ethos and approach and/or is keen to develop or enhance their Employee Assistance Programme

Clients delivering a back to work policy or hybrid model, who could benefit from a strong wellbeing initiative to scaffold this transition

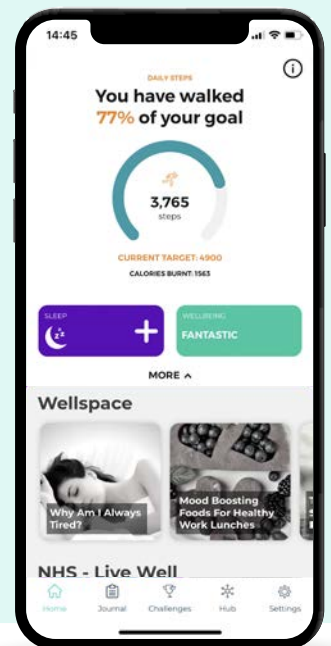

Forward thinking clients interested in leveraging using emerging technologies and services to positively impact the cost of risk to a business

Management is engaged to receive practical training about health and wellbeing to improve their management of employees and identify areas of improvement

Clients who attach high value to an insurer's added value proposition as a key decision-making consideration

WellSpace is a leading provider of health and wellbeing digital solutions.
