Who is an employee?

Offering robust cover for clients, Liability Protect has a wide definition of employees that is not simply limited to those under contract. Providing the individual is working for the client, Liability Protect covers: contractors, sub-contractors, apprentices, self-employed individuals, people on work experience and voluntary or home workers – just to name a few.

Legal costs

Liability Protect covers all reasonable costs and expenses during the investigation, defence and settlement of a claim, including both the business' costs and those required to be reclaimed by the claimant. Legal costs sit on top of the policy limit to ensure cover is not eroded by expensive court cases and lengthy legal proceedings.

Liability Protect also provides compensation for executives and employees for attendance at court.
